What Is Programmatic Targeted Display? (PTD)

- PTD advertising that streamlines the online media buying process by using automated software to target the specific customers you are trying to reach.

- The software finds the best possible websites and social media environments to advertise your specific products and services based on the online behaviour of your target demographic.

- PTD is like using Orbitz or Expedia to book a vacation as opposed to booking your flight and accommodations separately: you tell us who you want your ads to reach, and our software finds the perfect combination of websites to place them on for maximum value, brand recognition and sales conversion.

- PTD is an ideal marketing tool for both general brand awareness/development and for promoting specific calls to action.
Who Can Benefit From Programmatic Targeted Display?

Any type of business large or small, such as:

- Retail Stores (eg. boutiques, grocery stores, pharmacies, department stores)
- Restaurants (eg. takeout, a la carte)
- Automotive Dealerships
- Medical Practices (eg. private clinics, hospitals)
- Legal & Insurance Firms
- Home Service Providers (eg. cleaning companies, elder care)
- Investment Management Firms
- Hedge Funds
- Banks (eg. loans, credit cards, mortgages)
- Captive Insurance Companies
- International Business/Reinsurance
- Government Agencies (eg. Works & Engineering, Health, Parks)
How Is Customer Data Collected?

Your desired audience is defined by tracking their online behaviour and crunching the data into a custom advertising plan for your business. Data used includes:

- What kind of device your target audience using
- Which web browser they’re using
- Their physical location
- How recently they’ve made a purchase online
- What keywords they’re searching for in Google, Bing & Yahoo
- The types of websites they visit
How Exactly Does It Work?

Site Retargeting  Your ad displays on the screens of people who have previously visited your website to recapture their interest.

Search Retargeting  Your ad displays on the screens of people based on their search history and which keywords they’ve used to search for products and services similar to what you offer.

Geofencing  Your ad is shown to potential customers based on a very specific geographical boundary to attract customers to your business. In Bermuda, we can geofence by Parish or highly trafficked area (Dockyard, Airport). When targeting an overseas audience (i.e. U.S., U.K. or Canada), we can geofence by building (Convention Centre), street, city block, etc.

Conversion Zones  Geofences work by enticing customers to a virtual “Conversion Zone” around a physical location, letting businesses measure the amount of offline physical traffic directly resulting from their ad.

Social Media  Your ad shows up in users’ social media feeds and draws them to your website or landing page.
Site Retargeting - Example

- A user visits your website but leaves without taking the desired action (e.g., calling your business, making a purchase).
- As the user browses the Internet, our software shows them ads to attract them back to your website.
- When they click on the ad, the user returns to your website and engages with your website content.
Search Retargeting - Example

- A user performs a search. We then collect the data associated with what they searched for.
- As the user browses the web, relevant ads appear based on the keywords searched.
- The user clicks on the ad and visits your website.
Geofencing - Examples 1 & 2

TARGETING LOCAL

- You own a grocery store in Warwick and set up a geofence around the entire Parish.
- As users pass through Warwick, a notification pops up on their phone telling them about a special you are having or shows a general branding display ad.
- Users stop at your store to check out the special and make a purchase.

TARGETING INTERNATIONAL

- You run a Bermuda-based reinsurance company and want to encourage people attending the RIMS conference overseas to download your company’s white paper.
- You set up a geofence around the convention centre in the city where the RIMS conference is taking place.
- Users who walk into the conference get a notification on their phones advertising your company and its relevance to RIMS. Users visit your website and download the white paper.
Geofencing - Example 3

TARGETING INTERNATIONAL

- The Sycamore Brewing craft brewery in North Carolina wants people to buy their beer from the local grocery chain Harris Teeter.

- They set geofences with a five mile radius around every Harris Teeter location, making the stores themselves into offline conversion zones.

- Shoppers who enter these geofenced areas get a notification on their phones letting them know that Sycamore beer is available in the store that’s closest to them.

- Shoppers enter the conversion zone and buy the Sycamore beer.
A user logs onto their Facebook account.

When they go to their newsfeed, a sponsored ad pops up advertising a specific promotion for your business.

The user clicks through to your Facebook page or website and engages in some way with your business.
Display Ads

- When you sign up for programmatic targeted display, we create a series of display ads for you that fit the size requirements of any web site or mobile device.

- You will have a higher conversion rate if your ads feature a specific call-to-action such as a discount or special (eg. “15% off all stock this Tuesday”), (Free download), (Free report), etc.

- A call-to-action could also lead to a white paper discussing a number of topics, an offer sign up page etc.

- These ads are then distributed to various websites via geofencing, site retargeting, social media and search retargeting.

- Detailed analytics are calculated and distributed to you monthly so that you can see how each ad is performing and which channels are the most effective.

Landing Pages

- A landing page is a special page on your website that a user is directed to when they click on your display ad.

- It is designed to showcase your offerings while also appealing to search engines like Google for higher visibility.
Let’s Get Started

Your Logo  In order for us to make your display ads and landing page(s), we would require a logo for your business (minimum 250 pixels wide, in either PNG, EPS, Adobe Illustrator or PSD format).

Images  Good imagery is crucial to making your programmatic targeted display campaign a success. We recommend a minimum of 3 applicable images related to your call-to-action or business in general.

Call To Action & Slogan  Ads perform significantly better when there is some kind of promotional call to action accompanying them. All we need is a short, concise slogan and/or a promotional offering that can be explained in a maximum of two sentences (eg. Click here for 10% off), (Download free white paper), etc.

Facebook Admin Access  If you select a programmatic targeted display campaign that includes Facebook advertising, we will need access to your business’s Facebook page to be able to run the campaign.

Google Analytics Access  If we’re sending traffic directly to your website, we will need access to your Google Analytics account to understand the actions people are taking once they get there.

Install Code On Your Website  We may need to install several snippets of code on your website. This will allow us to track users’ movements throughout your site and better refine how we target your ads.

Google AdWords Access  If you have ordered a campaign that includes advertising on Google AdWords and you have an existing Google AdWords account, we will need to access that account to run your campaign.
